Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 16 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Soon turning dry and sunny.

Today:
Low cloud and patchy rain clear eastward around dawn to leave a dry day with plenty of sunshine. Moderate to fresh northwest winds. Feeling warmer than of late out of the wind. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Largely clear skies this evening. Patchy mainly high level cloud will increase overnight with some lower cloud along the coast, but remaining dry. Northwest winds easing. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Wednesday:
Mostly dry with some bright or sunny spells but a good deal of high cloud. Some lower cloud near the coast. A little patchy light drizzle possible across the Isles. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A good deal of low cloud with some patchy light drizzle at times near the coast. Inland parts are likely to see drier and occasionally brighter conditions. Mainly light winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.